

Only Abandoning Passive Resistance Will Open Way To Settlement Of Ruhr Problem, Teutons Told

Dentist's Trial On Lash Charge Continues

MACON, GA., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Continued efforts to connect Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, prominent dentist with a general flogging conspiracy, are expected with resumption in city court here today of his trial on charges of rioting in connection with the double flogging of R. F. Mills, former Macon chorist. Testimony yesterday was designed to show that he had knowledge of letters written by persons seeking to have others punished for various offenses.

Employees of the Ku Klux Klan testified yesterday regarding the actions of Dr. Yarbrough since Klan investigators came here with the announced intention of helping to run down the Macon floggers, who have been operating for about two years. The organizer of the Ku Klux Klan here, J. P. Durkee, who also is charged with being implicated in one flogging of Mills, testified that he obtained three letters from Dr. Yarbrough and turned them over to Sheriff J. H. Hicks, Jr. Durkee stated on the witness stand that many of the letters Dr. Yarbrough had access to were addressed to the Ku Klux Klan and were placed in his personal mail box at the post office.

Mrs. Lyndwood Bright, whose husband was whipped, has been called to a prosecution witness and many testifies during the day. Mrs. Bright lives in Atlanta and it was testified during the trial yesterday that she spent an afternoon in Dr. Yarbrough's office shortly before Mr. Bright was whipped and after he had sought to obtain some personal property from her through court action. It was stated by Miss Elizabeth Bright, who told of Dr. Yarbrough's visit, that she had heard that Dr. Yarbrough signed a bail bond for Mrs. Bright and that the explanation of her visit was that she had come to the office to thank the doctor.

Baker's Son Again Faces Jury On Trial For Murder

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, went on trial in supreme court today charged with the murder of Clarence Peters, former editor, whose body was found sixteen months ago on a lonely road near here with a bullet through the heart.

The indictment on which he is being tried is the second Ward has faced. A year ago a grand jury charged Ward with the death, but when he maintained that he had shot in self defense, after Peters had attempted to black mail him, the indictment was dismissed.

The case was re-opened last spring and Governor Smith ordered an extraordinary grand jury to conduct an inquiry. This jury returned the present indictment charging murder in the first degree.

Ward was in court today with only one member of his immediate family—his brother, Ralph, at his side. His father, George S. Ward, still remained outside the state and out of reach of process servers, while his wife was reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown at Atlantic City.

Hope Springs Anew In Capital Over Outlook In European Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Almost overnight has the spirit of hope and encouragement with reference to the European outlook come over official Washington.

The news that Germany is about to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr is accepted as due in large part to the influence of Great Britain. Being unable herself to force a recession of the French viewpoint by public exchanges of notes, Britain is believed to have persuaded the Germans to retreat. This man-

Dropping Of Earth's Surface Caused Quake

OSAKA, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The earthquake shocks which ten days ago today wrought such havoc in Japan, were not of volcanic origin, but were caused by violent dropping of two portions of the earth's surface, according to an official communique issued here which quotes Dr. Tatsuro Nakamura, Professor of the Imperial Tokyo University, and a Seismological authority.

The seismologist holds that the first and heaviest shocks arose from a violent disturbance of the level of the earth's crust in the district ranging from Ito, a noted hot spring resort between Oshima and Atami, to somewhere near the Miura Peninsula. This disturbance originated in the sea bottom near Ito, he holds. The second disturbance is supposed to have originated very near the naval base at Yokosuka and to have affected that district. Two other specialists in seismology endorse these views, the communique declares. It continues with the statement that, despite rumors to the contrary there has been no damage to Oshima, the picture island, nor any of the seven island groups, nor has there been any new volcanic activity.

Damage to the peaks of Mount Fuji, the communique says, can be distinguished from a point three miles away. Lowering of farm lands in the Tategama district on Boso Peninsula, by about six feet, is recorded, while reports of subsidence of some lands on the tip of this peninsula, previously reported, is confirmed.

The sea bottom level of the Boso Peninsula the communique says, was raised about six feet for a considerable distance. Specialists are investigating this phenomenon.

BOOTLEGGERS' CUSTOMERS ENRICH COFFERS OF BERMUDAN GOVERNMENT

HAMPTON, BERMUDAS, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Americans who buy liquor from bootleggers contributed indirectly $157,204.50 to the government of Bermuda in the form of an export tax of $2.40 on each case shipped from the island between April, 1922, and September 1, last.

During this period rum runners have taken out of Bermuda more than sixty thousand cases as well as forty-one barrels of liquor, all of which has found a market in New York and vicinity. This is a total of more than 750,000 bottles which, at an average retail price of $3 a bottle, would mean a return of $9,000,000 on cargoes that were brought here for about $1,600,000.

Most of this business has been carried on by a New York man, who so far has been successful in landing all his shipments. The purchase prices of this man's cargoes amount to $408,615 for 30,246 cases, or 362,952 bottles, which, if retailed at 88 each, would mean a return of $2,803,016. His schooner carries a crew of nine men and has made eleven trips.

In addition to this dealer, two others with headquarters in New York are in the Bermuda trade, one of whom has made four trips and the other three. Nine other vessels have left Bermuda with cargoes of liquor for delivery in the United States. Three have come to grief, falling into the hands of American revenue cutters; the other six have never returned.

Representative Madden of Illinois, is reported seriously ill at his Washington home.

Tokio Deaths Will Reach 150,000

Fatality List Grows, Officials Find, as Work of Clearing City For Rebuilding Starts—United States Relief To Be Welcome

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Deaths from the earthquake, fires and tidal waves in and around Tokio were estimated today to number 150,000.

Groups of 100 and more bodies have been found in various spots. Dysentery is prevalent.

The government informed the American Embassy that the relief personnel enroute would be welcome.

American Marines have landed and erected a bakery and an automobile repair shop at the American Embassy.

The duty on bringing in material imports has been removed. Reactionary carthquakes have fallen in number to twenty daily.

The military have the situation well in hand. As an observation system, military balloons are hanging over the city carrying observers to overlook large areas and report any incident requiring attention.

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The work of clearing up the debris of the earthquake and fire is under way in Tokio. The street car system's employees have been mobilized and are clearing the tracks

Real Estate Broker Makes Charges At Counts Trial

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The thousands of dollars paid out by the Auerbach manufacturers of "million dollar hair tonic" for protection from prosecution was divided among three men, with Attorney A. Frank Counts, receiving most of the money and complaining repeatedly because he did not get it all, according to testimony in Federal Judge Westenhaver's court today by Samuel Selkirk, former real estate broker.

Selkirk, witness for the government in the conspiracy case against Counts, his brother, former Federal Prohibition Agent Fred Counts, Joseph A. Shearer, former Federal Prohibition Director of Ohio, and Samuel A. Hoskins, Columbus attorney, also testified he had communicated to the Auerbachs, a warning from Frank Counts when prohibition inspectors were about to visit the Auerbach factory.

The witness also is under indictment in the Auerbach hair tonic conspiracy, but his trial has been delayed.

Conference May Protest Ruling Of M. E. Body

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Delegates to the twelfth annual meeting of the Northeast Ohio Methodist Episcopal Conference more than likely will enter formal protest against the action of the last general conference which put a time limit of six years upon the office of district superintendent and made it impossible to hold office indefinitely.

The protest is expected to come tomorrow with the election of twelve ministerial delegates to the General Conference, which convenes in Springfield, Mass., next May. Many members express the opinion that a majority of the delegates will be pastors instead of superintendents, as has been the traditional practice.

Should the Northeast Conference elect a majority from its pastors, it will be from the lead by the West Ohio Conference at Marion two weeks ago. The Northeast Ohio Conference is the largest in the denomination, with the Ohio conference of next business sessions and an address by Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, were on this morning's program. The afternoon program provided for group discussions and an address by J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, Calif.

Pretty Buble Of Springer 'Wealth' Bursts; Organizer Of 'Heirs' Confesses 'Myth'

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The members of the Springer heirs Inc., met here yesterday and bade farewell to their dreams of getting a half billion dollars out of Wilmington, Del., real estate. The gathering was the annual business meeting of the corporation formed by the descendants and heirs of Charles Christopher Springer, who died in 1778.

According to the claims made by the corporation, he owned most of the real estate where now stands the city of Wilmington, and the corporation was formed to prove the claims of the heirs and collect the real estate.

Attorney W. H. Chadwick presented a signed statement from Mrs. Mary Springer McMahon, originator of the Springer heirs organization, in which she admitted that her claims were false. The "missing page from the records" which would prove the claim of the "320,000,000" in a Philadelphia bank and a "manuscript in Sweden just bursting with jewels and precious heirlooms," the attorney said, were all myths. What has been termed the organizing movement, Mr. Chadwick said, "has only been the invention of stories to lead money from innocent people who live in country towns." To settle the

Quiet Reigns In South Bend After Night Of Race Riot Fear

SOUTH BEND, IND., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Quiet prevails in the negro section here today following a night of excitement which was marked by the exodus of between 1,000 and 1,500 negroes from the city, according to police reports. Extra details of police who patrolled the city last night for the purpose of handling any disturbance, which might arise, reported no untoward incidents.

The connection among the negroes followed receipt of letter by one of the members of the community, which was said to have warned the negroes an outbreak against them was brewing. The letter is also said to have stated that a negro being held for the alleged slaying of a local policeman, was to be taken from the jail by a mob.

Many of the negro residents became frightened and are said to have fled from the city, while others are reported to have armed themselves. The action of the latter led to the issuance of an order by Police Chief Lawrence Lane, stopping the sale of all fire arms.

Officials in discussing the situation, expressed the opinion that the letter which was unsigned, was the work of a crank and that no disturbance of importance would occur.

Expect 40,000 to Crowd Queen City For Odd Fellows' Meet

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—J. Edward Kroh, of Baltimore, Grand Secretary of the Sovereign Grand Lodge Independent Order of Odd Fellows, moved to Cincinnati today with his staff of clerks and assistants to open headquarters for the supreme body of the order, which opens its 50th annual convention here next Monday.

By the end of the week it is expected that 10,000 visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will have arrived in the city and by Monday there will be more than 40,000 here to attend the opening session.

On Tuesday, a general session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge will be held in a city park to give all those attending the convention an opportunity to see and hear—through the medium of loud speaking telephones—the Grand Sire, the officer who is supreme over all Odd Fellows throughout the world. The program will include musical selections, invocation and addresses.

Rehearsing Denied By Governor

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—James Watkins, removed by Governor Donahay as Youngstown's Police Chief, lost in his attempt at re-instatement when the governor today overruled the motion of Mr. Watkins' attorneys that he be granted a hearing.

Watkins was deposed on charges of misfeasance and malfeasance in office and failure to enforce laws. His attorneys argued their motion for another hearing before the chief executive last Monday night.

Governor Donahay gave no reasons for denying the application for a hearing, merely stating that the case had been argued by counsel and that "upon full consideration of all matters presented, and being now sufficiently advised in the premises, the governor doth overrule said motion."

Paris Pondering Value Of Grecian Move For Negotiations On Deadlock

PARIS, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Having informed Berlin that negotiations cannot be opened in the reparations deadlock while Germany's policy remains one of resistance, the French government is waiting to see whether the recapitulation of full expression of Berlin are only tumors emanating sent up to attract a full expression of French opinion, or whether Germany is ready to discuss a settlement that will satisfy France.

Acting on instructions from Premier Poincare, M. De Margerie, the French Ambassador to Germany, has informed Chancellor Stresemann that France adheres to her determination to make abandonment of massive resistance the first condition to an opening of direct negotiations. The premier has let it be known that he will consider in a conciliatory spirit any well defined German proposal that is made after obstruction tactics have ceased.

"Conversation Increasing"

BERLIN, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Chancellor Stresemann's address to the German editors was awaited with interest, to-day in view of government's admission that informal "reconnoitering" conversations on reparations are increasing with all powers, including France and the announcement that he might throw further light on Germany's position with regard to the Ruhr.

The newspapers concede that change in the situation is about to take place; the nationalist press being of the opinion that this will be nothing short of capitulation.

The government itself is apparently determined to get the Ruhr valley in working order once more, inasmuch as the industrialists will be needed in the negotiations that eventually settle the reparations deadlock.

A Prince Is A Prince 'For A That', Quebec's People Say Of 'Renfrew'

QUEBEC, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The Baron of Renfrew arrived in Quebec today.

The Baron of Renfrew is none other than His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, heir to the throne. Tired of being hailed as the future ruler of the British Empire, the prince chose one of his many other titles to travel under and thus escape the formalities accorded a personage of royal blood. In short, he wanted to dodge the plaudits of the multitude entering quietly on his way to an Alberta ranch, where, the papers say, he will eat boarding house hash and other simple fare.

"Did he succeed in dodging the multitude?" He did not. A prince is a prince, even though he be only a Baron, figured the residents of Quebec.

Therefore, the Baron, being a Prince, a princely welcome was in order.

Bright and early did the crowds gather at the pier to meet Baron Renfrew, and, as the Empress of France, steamed to her dock, a lusty cheer greeted the man who, only three years before had won the hearts of Canadians and Americans with his smile.

Being only a Baron, the prince didn't even take a special cutter in which to reach the shore. There were no officials to accompany an official reception, but the unofficial one made up for that. Even on the ship he couldn't escape the so-called "pitiless glare of publicity." Newspaper correspondents accompanied him and sent wireless messages about his trip. Despite the crowds at the pier today, however, one of Renfrew's visits to the American continent is sharply contrasted to the one the Prince of Wales made three years ago. Then he toured the country, was greeted everywhere by huge throngs, attended a number of social functions and dined with even more untold numbers of American and Canadian girls. He made many speeches and officiated at many functions, such as laying corner stones, planting trees and decorating troops.

Today Baron Renfrew came to Canada for a holiday. He went from the ship to the Chateau Frontenac, the bluff, where, from his window, he could gaze down upon the broad river.

Tomorrow he will be traveling, on a private car, attached to a regular train, which will transport him to Alberta. That will be the end of ceremony. On the ranch Baron Renfrew will live as a rancher. He will ride Western horses in a Western saddle; will be up early and in bed early; dancing partners are warned to keep away, and in short, the Prince of Wales—pardon—Baron Renfrew will lead the simple life and, as the papers say, eat boarding house hash and other simple fare.

Navy's Great Air Queen Proves Worth In Trial Trips, Builder-Commander Claims

LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Uncle Sam's giant Naval Dirigible, the ZR-1, lay in her barn-like hangar today with every stay and wire in her frame as taut and ship shape as they were yesterday when she left here on her epoch making trip of eleven and one-half hours to the Naval Air Station, elated at the great ship's performance, declared another trip probably would be essayed next Sunday. They announced themselves satisfied in every detail of the dirigible's behavior in flight, during which she held steady, made no visits to New York and Philadelphia and gave glimpses of her regal, graceful self to a half score of cities of New Jersey.

Not a mishap occurred, although the ship was subjected to most severe tests. With all six engines running, though not at full speed, the ZR-1 made sixty miles an hour at times. On

Copeland and Shipstead To Speak At Dental Meeting

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifteen sectional meetings occupied the attention of the 10,000 delegates to the sixty-fifth annual convention of the American Dental Association today. No general session was on the program until tonight, when United States Senators Royal S. Copeland, of New York, and Henrik Shipstead, of Minnesota, were scheduled for addresses.

Both of the Senators were also on the program for addresses before the First International Mouth Hygiene Conference today.

Addressing the convention last night, Dr. William J. Gies, of New York, urged that dentistry be put on an equality with other health services and that universities invite gifts for the specific endowment of dental education. The steady growth and "precocious" development of dentistry in the recent past, Dr. Gies said, is one indication that the physician has the vitality to grow and attain full equality with other health services.

Bargain Hunters In Near Riot; Police Called

A riot call to police headquarters this morning brought Sergeant Dan Miller and Officers Hawkins and Pyles to the Portsmouth Dry Goods Company. According to the officers, several hundred women were in a mad rush for ladies' coats, which the store had on sale for $1, and when store managers and salespeople were unable to cope with the crowds, some one sounded a riot call for police.

Several women received minor injuries when caught in the jam, and one child probably was saved from being trampled to death when snatched up by one of the officers as the crowd surged forward when the coats were first placed on sale at 8:30 o'clock.

It was pointed out that these were coats furnished for $1 each by manufacturers with whom the Portsmouth Dry Goods Company does a tremendous business, and were actually made to sell as high as $20 each.

Officer Pyles was called upon to enact the role of King Solomon when three women fought over a coat on sale for $1. The flip of a coin settled the argument, and the lucky woman received the coat.

Several professional shoppers who were mingling among the crowds in different departments left the store when they spotted police officers on the job. Store officials commended the police for their courteous and efficient manner in handling the tremendous crowds throughout the store and preventing what was a near riot.

Mr. Frick Suggests Joint Celebration

Manager Adam Frick has sent the following communication to the Iron-ore Chamber of Commerce:

The surface having been completed covering the last mile in Scioto county, of the brick roadway eastward, and this splendid artery soon to be open for traffic leading on to the metropolitan centers of the great Atlantic seaboard, might warrant some fitting recognition of this accomplishment.

May we not suggest that inasmuch as the two Ohio valley cities have been disconnected for an unusual length of time owing to the extreme length of road conditions, that we by publication advise of a date certain, and request as many citizens as may find it convenient to drive over this improved highway and thereafter meet at some agreed place for exchanging pleasantries and again shake the hand of our neighbors and indulge in whatever other festivities may be agreed upon.

If you find it convenient to give this question consideration and later advise us just what in your opinion may be deemed best to do, we will appreciate it very much and assist in arranging some satisfactory plan whereby the completion of this roadway may be brought to public attention. Yours very truly,
THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
Per Adam Frick, Manager.

Patterson, secretary of the Association, Miss Anne Carlton, a nurse, and Dr. Earl W. Baird, publicity manager of the Health Association, all of Columbus.

The counties in this district are Scioto, Adams, Pike, Ross, Gallia, Lawrence, Jackson, Vinton, Pickaway, and Highland.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Frost and temperatures approaching the freezing point in Northwestern Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Northern Wyoming, and frost and freezing temperatures in Alberta were attributed today by the weather bureau to a vast area of high pressure over the Northwestern States.

Atlantic City, September 12.—(By the A. P.)—Around the great right fist of Luis Angel Firpo when he steps into battle with Jack Dempsey in New York Friday night will be wound the blue, white and blue flag of the Argentine Republic.

Firpo is not superstitious but will wear the flag for the sake of his fans. The Argentine gladiator will wear the familiar yellow and black checked dressing gown that he has worn at every fight he has fought since coming to the United States, and his trunk, most likely, will be his favorite color of lavender.

Dollar Day Shoppers Throng Stores

This is Dollar Day. Was it a success? Ask any merchant, large or small in Portsmouth.

From the time the stores opened until they were closed at 5:30 they were crowded with bargain seekers, who reaped a rich harvest of real, honest-to-goodness bargains were offered for sale by the wide-awake merchants of this city. The streets were thronged with package-laden men, women and children, and it resembled a circus day so busy were the downtown streets and those in the East and North Ends, as Dollar Day activities spread to all parts of the city.

At one store, the Portsmouth Dry Goods store, the jam was so heavy when women's coats were offered for sale at $1 that the police were called to restore order in the store.

It was a common sight this morning to see 15 or 20 shoppers huddled about the front of a store waiting for the proprietor to open his place of business.

The Dollar Day spirit was in the air and bargain hunters sure enjoyed a field day, many getting up with the rising sun in order that they would be on time to buy this and that bargain they had seen displayed in shop windows.

It was a genuine success from every standpoint, one downtown merchant said.

"We had almost as many buyers up our way as there were down town," an East End merchant said.

"It was a success, because the people realized that real $2, $3 and $4 articles were offered for one dollar," said another.

Early morning west-bound street cars were packed with shoppers and there were as many parked cars in the downtown sections as there are on Saturday night.

Window trimmers will have to get busy tomorrow as many windows were stripped of their bargains like a cyclone had struck them.

And the bargain seekers did not stop with one package. Oh, dear, no! They bought an armload and many bought so many that they filled their automobiles.

Yes, Dollar Day was a big success if your loose dollars did not run out.

CAR; IS RUN OVER BY ANOTHER

The next time Booker Moore, Jr., 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Booker Moore, of 1324 Twelfth street, tries to steal a ride on an automobile, he no doubt will think twice.

In getting off a machine at Twelfth and Waller streets last night after hanging on to the rear fender he fell and a service car of the Universal Motor Company, driven by Harold Bert, of 1125 Thirteenth street, passed over the Moore boy, but he was not badly injured. The front wheel of the machine bruised the lad's hip and an x-ray will be taken to see if it was broken.

With Bert in the truck were two other young negroes, Ross McDonald and Earl Melvin. Officer Roy Hawkins investigated the accident but made no arrests, indicating a finding that the accident was unavoidable, and the indirect fault of the lad's attempting to steal a ride on the machine from which he fell.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor of Times:—
Everybody is writing and reading, too. Is something new welcome in your columns? Abe Martin says everybody wants to give President Coolidge a chance except the politicians. In my opinion, President Coolidge has the option of a great chance to become one of America's greatest of Presidents. His record as Governor of Massachusetts is behind him and he must be a man for the people. The time however, has arrived for any man seeking the nomination of this high and unexcelled position, to remain free from any alliances with party specialists, with ties coming from party organizations, that will hinder his breadth after election. Candidates on both tickets will do a lasting good to fight a losing battle, if this be necessary in order to expose the bad and preach for the upkeep of the good. There is more honor in defeat, in an attempt to be upright, than there is honor in success stained with ill ties. Will the next candidates seeking this position of responsibility, stay away from the convention halls, by doing so will they not serve a noble purpose and establish a manly precedent? Are the people yet awaking to the tremendous responsibilities on the shoulders of America, are they becoming any more conscious of their part to keep free America from the throes of evil?

Bennett school in Madison Township is crowded to overflowing with 40 pupils enrolled and ten more expected to enroll in a few days. The usual condition at this school is due to a number of new families locating in that community temporarily while the heads of the families are employed in Dan White Hollow where there is a lumber and the cutting job under way. The school board is considering a plan of transporting some of the pupils to another school. Additional chairs from a grange hall have been installed to partially relieve the abnormal condition. Miss Katherine Frowine is teacher of the school.

Ready for Jobs

The following announcement was made yesterday at the office of the Chamber of Commerce:
"The United States Government has now in training ex-service men who were injured more or less during the late war, many of them have now received sufficient training, and are equipped for service. Chambers of Commerce are requested by the War Department to say to the employer that these men, many of them very competent workmen, are available."
"The local Chamber, in compliance with government instructions, makes the announcement that whenever there may be need for these men that such information be given which may be forwarded to the bureau for assignment."

Life Prisoner Is Freed By Donahey

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—Governor Donahey today commuted the life sentence of Weldon H. Wells, convicted of the murder of Mona Simons in a local hotel seven years ago. Wells will be released September 27. Commutation was recommended by the Board of Pardons, Warden Thomas, the trial judge, and the nine living jurors who convicted him.
Wells is to go to his mother in Kansas City where a position awaits him. He has been an "honorary" man for several years, working in the prison offices.
The Governor also pardoned Chicago Thomas of Stark county serving a sentence of one to ten years for perjury.

Conference in Fine Shape Reports Show

Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, pastor of the Franklin Avenue M. E. Church, returned Monday night from Newport Ky., where he attended the Session of the Annual Conference. He was returned for a fourth year. The Conference was presided over by Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit, and was an unusually full and interesting session. The ministers were assigned to the different charges at the close of the session on Monday evening. The following were some of the appointments:

Superintendent of the Ohio District, Rev. John Mayer, D.O.
Superintendent of the Michigan District, Rev. F. J. Baumann, formerly pastor in Portsmouth and who will reside in Detroit.

Rev. C. B. Koch, also formerly a Portsmouth pastor, was re-appointed District Superintendent of the Cincinnati-Louisville District.
Bucyrus, Rev. M. C. Morlock; Cleveland, Cedar Avenue, Rev. John Oetjen; Cleveland, St. Paul, Rev. J. H. Holtcamp; Columbus, Second Church, Rev. M. J. Betz; Elmira, O., Rev. H. C. Boyer; Marietta, Ohio, Rev. Wm. Schuff; Toledo, First Church, Rev. A. L. Mueller.

The ministerial delegates to the General Conference to be held in Springfield, Mass., in May, 1924, were Rev. O. Rogatzky of Bucyrus, and Rev. E. W. Mueller, D. D., formerly District Superintendent of the Ohio District, at present a member of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension at Philadelphia.

The statistical and financial reports show net gains in church membership and, while there was a falling off in the Centenary contributions, the total benevolences of the conference surpass the reports of any previous year. The Treasurer reported total contributions of $220,370, an increase of almost $75,000 over last year.

The Conference voted to accept the invitation of the Twenty-fourth steel Church in Detroit, for the session of the conference next year.
Edward Bremer and F. L. Martin of the local church, in attendance at the Lay Conference returned Sunday night. The delegates elected to the General Conference were Edmund L. Huber, of Louisville, Ky., and C. J. Walker, of Covington, Ky., both prominent laymen and practicing attorneys.

The boys from here who attended the Junior Lay Conference in session at the same time and place were Wm. Boehmer, John Gee and John Martin. John Gee was president of the Association during the past year, and was succeeded by Theodore Wellor of Cincinnati. Portsmouth was again honored by having William Roehner elected as vice-president.

Why be Feeble?

ADVANCING years should not mean the approach of a period of dependency—of crutches and canes—of worry, care and fatigue! Don't dread the days ahead! Be prepared to grapple with the heaviest of Old Age—with rheumatism—with undiminished health—with feebleness. The system that is free from impurities—through which rich red blood tingles need not worry about advancing years. Enlist the aid of S. S. S.—the builder of red blood cells—to fight off the infirmities of Old Age.

With the aid of S. S. S. when you reach this stage of life the nerve power that has been built up by ever increasing blood cells—the vim and vigor of youth—can be restored will capably enable you to enjoy the advantages of passing years, while others less fortunate are feeble and dependent.

S. S. S. for nearly a century has been serving as a valuable and time honored assistant in the fight for hale and hearty Old Age. It is made only of pure vegetable ingredients and is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is the more economical.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

threw it wide.

"There's snow and cold out there," his voice was deeply sober. "Death, too—sure as you're standing here. A weakling like you can't live in that out there. None of your kind can stand it—they'd die like so many sheep. And as a result you have to bow down and serve the man that can't."

Ned had no answer. The greatest fear of his life was clamping down upon him.

"That's the law up here—that the weak have to serve the strong. I've bent the North at its own game, and serves me, just as you're going to serve the new X. You can't do it there if you like—if you prefer to die. There's no boat to carry you off. There never will be a boat to carry you off."

He paused, smiling grimly; then with an explosive motion, pulled back the lid of the stove and threw in another log. "Sit down, why don't you?" he invited. "I don't insist on my servants standing up always in my presence. You'll have to sit down sometime, you know."

Lenore, wisely dependent, sank back in her seat. To show that she was still her protector, Ned stood behind her, his hands resting on the back of her chair. Bess stole to a little rough seat between them and the square.

A single great chair was left vacant, also, in the corner of the circle. Doomsdorf glanced once about the room as if guarding against any possibility of surprise attack by his prisoners, then sat down easily himself. "Excuse me for not making you known to my women so often," he began, "but I haven't even learned your own names. She is, translating for the vernacular, 'Owl-That-Never-Sleeps.' You won't be expected to call her that, however—although I regret as a general thing that the picturesque native names so often are lost in translation on the tongues of the whites. When I took her from her village they gave her to me as 'Sindy.' You may call her that. It will do as good as any—every other squaw from Tin City to Ketchikan is called Sindy."

"You're an interesting fellow," he said, "and I'm interested to know that you are one of the supposedly uninhabited islands of the Skoklo group. Other islands are grouped all around you, making one big snow field when the ice closes down in winter. It is a goodly group, and your exact longitudinal position, but it wouldn't be the least good to you. The population consists of five people—various bear, carbon and such like. The principal industry, as you will find out later, is furs."

"There is no need to tell you in detail how and why I came here—unlike Callban, I am not a native of the place. I hope you are not so deficient as to have failed to read 'Tempest.' I find quite an analogy to our present condition. Shakespeare is a great delight on winter nights; he remains real, when most of my other slim stock of authors fades into air."

Dear Dolly—Since making pickles and preserves seem to be the order of the day I wish you would print a recipe for preserving a husband. I heard you printed a good recipe last year, but I am a stranger in Portsmouth and would like very much to preserve my husband. Dolly, I also heard this town a hard place to keep a husband and I don't want to lose mine, at least not right away.

YOUNG WIFE.

There are several good ways preserving husbands. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others keep them in hot water. This only makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter. Even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good by garbishing them with patience, well sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses to taste; then wrap them in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peace and cream. When thus prepared they will keep for years. To those who are about to acquire a husband I might add, be careful in your selection; do not choose too young, and take only such as have been reared in a good moral atmosphere.

Dear Miss Wise—We are a bunch of young musicians and we would like very much to know how many instruments are used in a symphony orchestra. If you happen to know the names of the different instruments we would appreciate the information.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.

There are usually sixty pieces in a symphony orchestra. They are first and second violins; violas; violoncellos; contrabasses; flutes; oboes; bassoons; clarinets; horns; trumpets; trombones; tympani; cymbals and triangle.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please print a recipe for chili sauce in the Times.

A READER.

Chili Sauce—One half peck of tomatoes, two cups of celery, two cups onions, two small red peppers, each chopped very fine, one cup fine mustard seed, one cup sugar, one half cup salt, one teaspoon of black pepper, one table-spoon ground cinnamon, one quart vinegar. Boil one and one half hours.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a recipe for grape catsup.

NEW HOSION READER.

Five pounds of grapes, cooked and rubbed through a sieve, one pint vinegar, three pounds of sugar, one table-spoon of ground cinnamon, one teaspoon of cloves, one teaspoon allspice, one teaspoon pepper, one half teaspoon salt. Boil until thick.

ASHLAND READER—It is not advisable to let this column serve as a bureau for helping lonesome people get acquainted. Many disagreements and fragile complications would arise because it is impossible to be discriminating through a correspondence column. I think you would be very foolish to select a husband promiscuously, or to take one that you would get through an advertising medium. It looks too much like putting yourself on the auction block to advertise in the paper that you are in the market for a husband and will take anything that looks like a man. Did you ever stop to think that you might get a scoundrel or a criminal or a what-not?

After a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Noel of McConnell Avenue, Mrs. Iny Rutman and little son have returned to their home at Ashland, Ky.

The eighth birthday anniversary of Pauline Vincent, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vincent, of 920 Twelfth street, was celebrated with a delightful party recently, when a number of her friends and neighbors assembled at her home to help celebrate the happy event.

Games and music occupied the little folks until an appropriate hour, when they were invited into the dining room, where a yellow and white ice course was served. The table was centered with a large white cake mounted with eight yellow candles, and places were marked for Gertrude and Audrey Cooper, Mildred Hill, Betsy and Ethel Ford, Garnet Gordon, Dorothy Sly, Dolores Theobald, Thelma Hamilton, of Cincinnati, Irene Stone, Junilia Adams, Beulah Davis, Harold Stone and Howard Brown. The honor guest received many pretty and useful gifts.

Another of the delightful lawn socials which have become so popular an activity at the Pond Run M. E. Church will be staged there next Saturday night, September 15, at about 8 o'clock.

These are staged every couple of months on the church lawn, and as this probably will be the last outdoor affair of the year, the congregation will be out in full force with their friends for the pleasant social evening and delightful refreshments always a feature of events at the church.

Ice cream, pie, sandwiches and coffee will be on sale.

Well dollar day is over and I am sure we all bought many real bargains. Now we women must begin to plan our Fall and Winter wardrobes.

Have you seen that group of Co-ed dresses advertised in the magazine Vogue this month at $35? The Fashion has been appointed exclusive agent for this famous line of dresses. I viewed the five cloth dresses advertised in Vogue at The Fashion this afternoon and they are real beauties.

One is a demure frock of pin seal twill which delights in rows of braid bound scallops at edge of sleeves and over-bustle. The charming underclothes are of pleated chiffon held with softly colored braid bands. The Peter Pan collar is likewise braid bound as are the wee pockets.

Smartness is evident in a straight line wrap-around coat frock of poret twill held at the side with an elaborate buckle. The wide lapels, collar and side panel, use designs of chinese blue silk braid outlined with bands of black vermilion braiding.

Like an old-fashioned flower garden is this straight line frock of Poret Twill, with bands of embroidered flowers at front and on side panel. The belt is cut in one with front of dress. The lower edge of front is group pleated and edged with pleated frill.

The designer has cleverly used Poret Twill for this charming dress. The simplicity of the straight-line waist and gathered skirt are emphasized by the be-buckled bands that encircle waist and fall downward at sides. The silk collar and puff cuffs of contrasting color are chenille embroidered.

A straight-line Poret Twill frock, of ultra simplicity, has a silk embroidered and steel beaded yoke effect, and deep cuffs in shades of old blue. Two embroidered pocket effects are inspirations for the narrow side panels caught at the hem-line. The skirt has a pleat placed at the side back.

BUNCH BEAR'S ACCIDENT

There was Penny Prairie Dog again, a few yards away, beside another hole.

Bunch Bear loved grasshoppers so well he followed the creek down and down the mountain until he came to a great flat place where there were fields and grass and lots of land and plenty of deep blue sky.

And wasn't he glad that he came, though, for the grasshoppers were so thick they hopped around him and under him and over him and even sat on his nose!

Suddenly he heard a noise. "Chik! Chik! Chik!" It went right beside him. And looking down, Bunch beheld Penny Prairie Dog jerking his little square tail and barking as though someone were working him with a string.

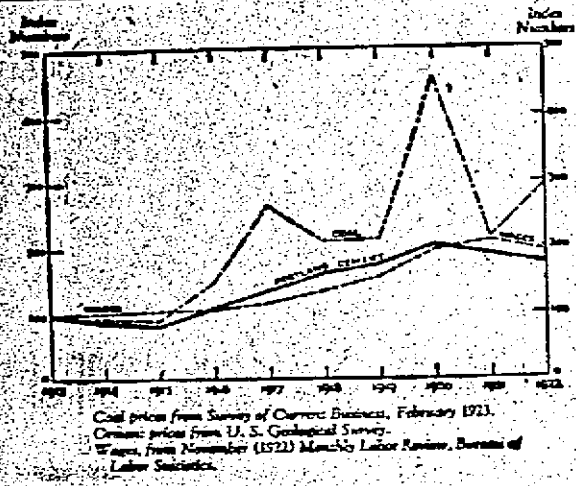

"Well, of all things!" declared Bunch. "What's this sassy thing? It might make a better lunch than grasshoppers. And he made a grab with one of his paws so quickly that it Penny Prairie Dog hadn't lost his balance at that very second and fallen into his own front door, he would have been like Jack, a Nory and this story would have been done.

But he did lose his balance and he did fall, so this story isn't finished yet.

Bunch was cross. "I'll get you yet," he howled. "You just wait, I'll!"

Suddenly he stopped and blinked his eyes. There was Penny Prairie Dog again a few

More for Your Money

Swapping things—as when our grandmothers traded eggs for calico at the cross-roads store—gives a better understanding of values. By measuring one thing against another we too can often judge values more clearly.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language, this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

So, considering these increased costs, it is plain that in buying cement you get more for your money than before.

one occasion she rose to an altitude of 7,000 feet, the highest she has yet done.

Commander Ralph Meyerbacher, U. S. N., designer, builder, and commander of the dirigible, in a statement published today in the New York Tribune, declares that down the aerial super-dreadnaught flew over New York on a warlike errand, it would have been an easy matter to have destroyed public buildings, smashed great holes in the crowded streets and reduced the metropolis to a state of panic.

However, the ZR-1 is not a bombing craft. The prime function of this and similar airships is to act as a long distance eye for the navy. The ZR-1 was designed as a wide ranging scout, to scour the seas in time of war for signs of enemy fleet movements.

"The whole trip covered nearly six hundred miles over the Atlantic seaboard and it was a tremendous success. We had proved to the satisfaction of our own officers that the dirigible airships in the world, designed and built entirely in America, of American materials and with American hands, can be flown with entire safety and maneuvered as an effective arm of the navy."

because of paralysis.

He declared he had received between $20,000 and $25,000 from Benjamin H. Schwartz, attorney for the Auerbachs, and he turned all of it over to F. Counts with the exception of $1,000 or $1,200 which he said he had kept out as payment for his own services as intermediary.

Examined by U. S. District Attorney A. E. Bernstein and Assistant District Attorney McCormack, Selker declared A. F. Counts had received all between $20,000 and $25,000 from the Auerbachs, including sixteen or eighteen payments collected directly from Louis Auerbach by Selker after Schwartz left the city.

Before Schwartz left he introduced Selker to Auerbach and suggested they deal directly, the witness testified. The payments continued in this manner until about November 1, 1920, he said, totaling between $40,000 and $45,000, of which Selker retained approximately $1,000.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—When the conspiracy trial of Joseph A. Schwartz, of Columbus, former Federal Prohibition Director for Ohio; Fred Counts, former Federal Prohibition agent here; his brother, A. Frank Counts, and Samuel A. Hoskins, of Columbus, was resumed in Federal Court here today, District Attorney A. E. Bernstein was ready to call Samuel Selker, a Cleveland realty broker, to the witness stand.

Mr. Bernstein said he hoped to learn from Selker what he did with several thousand dollars which Benjamin H. Schwartz, prominent Cleveland attorney, and former counsel for Louis Auerbach, testified yesterday that he had given Selker.

According to Schwartz's testimony he paid the money to Selker for Auerbach, with the understanding that it would be turned over to A. Frank Counts, to guarantee that Auerbach's business would not be interfered with by Government Prohibition Agents. On cross examination by counsel for the defense, Schwartz stated that he did not know that the money actually went to Counts.

Schwartz testified that he handed over to Selker three or four payments of $4,000 each, which came out of $5,000 payments made to him by Auerbach. He kept the balance as his fees, Schwartz testified.

Selker was indicted last May in connection with the Auerbach alcohol diversion case, but his trial has been delayed by his illness. Louis and Abraham Auerbach, who were indicted at the same time, pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to violate the Prohibition law and sentenced to the Atlanta penitentiary.

Hope Springs

Empire were vigorously opposed.

For many weeks the American government has been aware that beneath the surface negotiations were proceeding between the industrialists of all European powers with a view to effecting a settlement. The rumors that the industrialists have reached an agreement comes significantly at the same time that word goes forth from Berlin of the prospective end of passive resistance.

There has been well defined reports from Paris for some time that if the German industrialists would agree to permit the acquisition by French interests of 26 percent of some of the larger mines and manufacturing concerns of Germany, the quarrel about the Ruhr could easily be ended. Twenty-six percent carries with it a qualified veto power over the majority under Prussian law, which in some respects makes the minority holders of stock as powerful as the majority.

News is expected at any moment that on some such basis have the industrialists of France gained a victory, and of course behind them is the French government.

The gradual decline of the mark and the certainty that it unchecked the situation in Germany would drift into the hands of the monarchists and bring about economic chaos with no particular advantage to anybody, has brought the present German Ministry to its senses and will no doubt have a sobering influence on the French.

The belief here is that Great Britain has assumed the role of confidential mediator and that she will be in a position to regain the trust of France and preserve the entente by the negotiations now in process.

Naturally the American government is taking no active part in what is going on, but it is an interested and well informed on-looker. The prospect is that if the French and Germans can come to an agreement about the Ruhr and reparations, the international bankers of all countries, including America, will take an interest once more in floating an international loan. The bankers' committee which met at the suggestion of the reparations commission in Paris a year and a half ago might be asked to sit again and give an expert appraisal of German assets for the benefit of the commission.

The whole situation for the moment looks favorable to a European settlement.

Jenkins Is Denied Bail; Spires Refuses To Talk

The application of Frank Jenkins, of Portsmouth, charged with first degree murder in connection with the killing of Robert F. Morris in Adams county last May, to be admitted to bail, was denied by Judge Will P. Stephenson, following a hearing in the Adams County Common Pleas court at West Union yesterday.

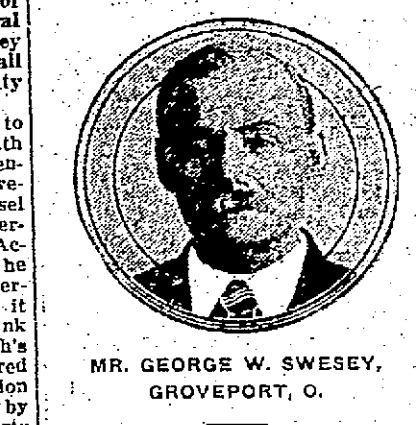

The accused was given a preliminary hearing on the murder charge before Squire William Cooper a week ago, and the magistrate at that time sent the prisoner to jail after refusing to admit him to bond to await the action of the grand jury, which will probe the murder mystery when it convenes early in October.

John Spires, confessed accomplice in the murder, who implicated Frank Moore and Jenkins, both of whom are held in connection with the crime, was the only witness called at the trial yesterday. Spires' testimony varied but little from the story of the murder which he told at the preliminary examination of Jenkins before the magistrate a week ago. Although Spires readily responded to questions put to him by prosecuting attorney J. R. Kessler, the witness again assumed the same attitude toward Judge A. Z. Blair, counsel for defendant, as he did last week, and again refused to answer his questions, though urged to do so by the court.

In relating his version of the murder, which he said occurred at the Turkey Creek house near West Union, Spires accused Jenkins of firing the fatal shot which took Morris' life. The witness declared that the victim's body was onto the bank of Ohio Brush creek, where it was found nearly a month later by fishermen. Spires admitted that he and Frank Moore were in the Morris' machine at the time of the killing.

Failing in his attempt to induce Spires to testify on cross-examination, Judge Blair advised the court that the defense had no evidence to offer and the hearing was at an end not a single one of the more than a score of persons who had been summoned into court to testify on behalf of the accused being called to the witness stand. These witnesses, all of Portsmouth, included Mrs. Ada Jenkins, wife of the accused; Thomas Moore, Emma Tucker, W. E. Symore, Samuel Crawford, Will Brooks, Henry Hardin, Garfield Jenkins, Elza Stambaugh, Lou Shonkewiler, S. Shonkewiler, Pearl Mason, Annie Stambaugh and Theodore Carter.

Attorney P. A. Shively, of West Union, has been retained by Spires' parents to defend their son, and Attorney Theo K. Funk, of this city, will represent Frank Moore, another of the suspects.

MR. GEORGE W. SWESEY, GROVEPORT, O.

Groveport Farmer Tells How Ka-di-ok Gave Him New Life and Strength After a Long Spell of Sickness.

Mr. George W. Swesey, a farmer of Groveport, O., in a signed statement just recently made, says: "I cannot say anything too good for Ka-di-ok; it has given me a new lease of life. Before I took it I had stomach trouble, bad headaches and pains in my back and right side; I had frequent dizzy spells and would be unable to see anything for a few minutes. I was even told by a doctor that I was suffering from locomotor ataxia. At all events I was in a very miserable condition and scarcely fit to do anything. Now I can eat, sleep and work as good as the average person. I did more work this fall than I have been possible for me to do the past five years; I cut over 500 shocks of corn and husked, I should judge, about 1500 bushels. I can truthfully say that I am in better condition today than I have been for the last ten years, and I give Ka-di-ok all the credit for it."

Ka-di-ok can be had at Fisher & Streich's and all other drug stores.—Advertisement.

Greece Must Comply Before Italy Leaves Isle Of Corfu

ROME, Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Italy will evacuate the island of Corfu when she has obtained the entire fulfillment of the reparations she has demanded from Greece. It was stated at the meeting of the Council of Ministers today. The Council met under the presidency of Premier Mussolini, who told of the negotiation that had taken place, and measures adopted to guarantee the rights of Italy.

Corfu, it was set forth, is regarded as a mere pledge for the carrying out of the punishment to which Greece must submit for the crime of Janina and Italy will leave the island when her demands are entirely complied with.

Fight Receipts Pass Million Mark

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Although he has won every gamble with rain in his career as a fight promoter, Tex Rickard nevertheless is prepared if inclement weather changes his luck in connection with the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship bout at the Polo Grounds Friday night. In case of rain, he said, the bout will be held Saturday night.

Rickard had two close calls with the elements—the Leonard-Tender 'bout in Jersey City a year ago last July and the Milk fund show at the Yankee Stadium last May 12. It rained on the afternoon of the Leonard-Tender fight has attracted the largest advance gate in the history of boxing. The receipts he said, already had exceeded $1,000,000. The capacity gate is $1,300,000.

Bodies of 60,000 dead were cremated by Tokio authorities up to midnight of September 8, and dead in Yokohama are placed at 110,000.

Powellville Man Is Missing

Charles Bauer, 48 years old, an eccentric farmer of the Powellville vicinity, has been strangely missing from his home since August 29, and the local police have been asked to aid in a search being made for him. According to the information given to the police Bauer who lived alone, having no relatives in this section, started to Portsmouth in company with a man named John Vance, of Poplar Fork, on the day in question, presumably to complete a deal for the sale of his farm to Vance. That is the last trace those interested in his search have been able to secure of Bauer and it is feared he may have met with foul play with robbery as a motive. The missing man was 5 feet 2 inches tall and was attired in overalls and wide-brim straw hat when he left home.

What Is Doing Along the A-P. Highway

J. Clyde Deebaugh, field representative of the Atlantic-Pacific Highway organization, gives out the following report on construction work on the highway:

In order that all may know the program of construction all along the Atlantic-Pacific Highway, we would like to call your attention to what is being done.

Last week when H. A. Russell, president of the Atlantic-Pacific Highway was in the east, I met him at Portsmouth and we drove over the highway as far east as Covington, Va.

We visited all the towns between these points, calling upon the different representatives of each town.

Everyone is very enthusiastic and believe as we do; there will be only one trans-continental highway when the Atlantic-Pacific is completed.

From six miles west of Portsmouth to five miles east of Montgomery, W. Va., a distance of 160 miles, the road is completed. It is made of brick, concrete, and tar-and-bound macadam.

Between Montgomery, W. Va., and Covington, Va., two-thirds of the road is built and one half of the remaining mileage between these points is under construction. It will all be completed into Staunton, Va., in 1924 if present plans are carried out.

At Staunton we connect with a finished road through Washington, D. C., on into New York.

Beckley, W. Va., is planning on a million dollar hotel, which is made necessary by the tourist travel.

In one day, driving through West Virginia, we passed cars from 17 different states.

Illinois will be finished by late this fall, with the exception of two heavy miles and will be an 18 foot concrete road.

Indiana is built between Princeton and Winslow.

From Winslow to French Lick it is under construction. The highway between French Lick and Paoli is finished, and between Paoli and Hanover some is built. The remainder is under construction.

Between Hanover and the state line it is practically all completed.

From the state line to New Richmond, with the exception of a short distance east of the bridge over the Little Miami the highway is in good condition.

The division from New Richmond to 12 miles west of Portsmouth, is to be built at an early date.

From 12 miles west of Portsmouth, into Portsmouth will be an 18 foot brick road, completed this fall.

From St. Louis west to Los Angeles the Atlantic-Pacific Highway is being built as rapidly as possible.

In Allen and Bourbon counties Kansas, a fifty mile unbroken stretch is completed.

Sedgewick County, Kansas has just built the highway across the county at a cost of two million dollars.

Construction is being done in Oklahoma.

Between Cataldo and Hillsboro, N. M., a new road is now being constructed.

From Sorroco to San Antonio, New Mexico, there is a section under construction costing $52,000.

These different sections connect with divisions already built.

SOCIETY

As a brilliant climax to the round of social festivities that have been enjoyed Miss Katherine Hall and dance, Mrs. Yarnes Altsman, whose husband is in the service, gave a party at eight o'clock this evening in All Saints' church, will be one of the most charming society events of the early fall, the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hall, entertained with an elaborate dinner last evening at their handsome home.

This charming occasion brought together the members of the bridal party, who were seated at a table, whose center of pink delicias made a beautiful background for the scintillating crystal and silver appointments.

The guests were: Mrs. James Stone, Miss Katherine Hall and her maid of honor, Miss Jenn Wallace of East Orange, N. J.; the bridesmaids, Misses Edna Hauck, Helen Dawson, Elizabeth Altman, and Thelma Rieker; and the little flower girl, Martha Jane Watkins; Mr. Yarnes Altsman, his best man, Mr. John L. Healy, and his groomsmen, Ross Moore Gault, Kelly Dillon, Armin Lindenmeyer and Charles Hall.

Births

The stork seems to be favoring this fair city with twins. The baby girls born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner, North Moreland, last night have been named Alice Maxine and Katherine Arline.

Births

Miss Mary Gower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gower of 1312 Galia street, who was recently graduated from the National Bible Institute of Philadelphia, arrived here last evening for a several weeks' visit with home folks. Miss Gower is undecided as to her future plans, but may return to Philadelphia to take a post-graduate course at this college.

Births

Mrs. I. L. Crawford of Lucasville has returned home from the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Emerald Clark, who underwent a serious operation for acute appendicitis at Grant Hospital, on September 1st. Mrs. Clark is now practically out of danger. Dr. Robert Drury was the operating surgeon.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Much Interest Being Shown in the Large Number of Women Safely Carried Through the Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Following Letters Are Impressive

Owing to modern methods of living, few women approach this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying and often painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, nervousness, headaches, melancholia and irritability are only a few of the symptoms incident to this trying period of a woman's life, and the following letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to overcome these abnormal conditions.

Fishersville, Ky.—"For several months I was under the doctor's care as he said my nervousness, chills, hot flashes and weakness was caused by the Change of Life, but I did not seem to get any better. I was not able to work and spent most of my time in bed. A friend called to see me and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I cannot tell you how much good the medicine did me, as I had such a hard time before taking it. I can only advise every woman passing through the Change of Life to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it did so much for me."—Mrs. EDWARD B. NEAL, Star Route, Fishersville, Ky.

A Michigan Woman Helped
Lonia, Michigan.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and had been under the doctor's care without any relief. A friend in Lansing, Mich., asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel fifty per cent better already. If any one in this condition doubts the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help them I will gladly answer their letters."—Mrs. MAX W. HAHN, 537 N. Jefferson Street, Lonia, Mich.

A New York Woman Helped
Syracuse, N. Y.—"I was used up with nervousness, weakness and hot flashes so I could hardly keep around, and could not get out much on account of those awful prickly feelings. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helping another woman with symptoms like mine. My husband got some for me, and after taking it five months I can get around and even do my housework, washing and ironing included, and my friends can see what a change it has made in me."—Mrs. SIDNEY HUMPHREY, 823 1/2 Burnet Avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

When "Cut-off" While Telephoning

A TELEPHONE "cut-off" may be due to the temporary disarrangement of signal mechanisms at the switchboard, or just a plain human mistake by the operator.

The person called should immediately hang up his receiver when "cut-off".

The person who made the call should ask the operator to re-establish the connection thus: When the operator says, "Number, please", say, "I called Number _____ and was cut-off".

If the person who is called keeps his receiver off the hook after he has been "cut-off", his line will test "busy" and may be so reported when the calling party is trying to reach him again.

Subscriptions To Japanese Relief Fund Passes The Minimum Quota And Drive Continues

The generosity of the people of Portsmouth and Soloto county has enabled the local Red cross chapter to reach the minimum quota of $5,000, and subscriptions since received make a total exceeding that amount, but the original quota, were assigned, before the appalling proportion of the catastrophe were fully realized, and the sums required for relief were known. More recent relief have confirmed the fears that the disaster in Japan is of such magnitude as to require relief to the utmost power of the entire civilized world.

As chairman of the Japanese Disaster Relief Fund of the American Red Cross, Judge E. H. Garry, is urging every local chapter to keep on working for funds, even though the quota assigned has been reached. In his letter of yesterday to Chapter Chairman, Judge Garry said:

"Close to four million dollars has already been expended by the American Red Cross on behalf of the earthquake sufferers, the amount collected to date being slightly over this amount. Mr. Hoover's committee, in charge of the purchasing of relief supplies, has need for unlimited sums of money. It is for this reason that we ask you to continue your work until every dollar that can be raised for Japanese relief has been sent into the American National Red Cross headquarters."

In the face of such a situation the executive committee of Soloto County Chapter feels that no one will withhold the hand of mercy, when the opportunity comes to give.

Great number have generously given, but many have not, and it is for those who have not given that the opportunity will be kept open during the remainder of this week and on next Sunday.

In a note of congratulations for the splendid responses already received, the manager of the Washington Division says:

"It is a spirit such as your Chapter has shown that is enabling the American National Red Cross to carry on its work of humanity. Please extend our genuine appreciation to every man and woman who is helping to make the collection of Japanese relief funds a success in your territory. We need not tell you how urgent the cause and the need of additional funds."

Considerably to their astonishment, they said, he then confessed that he had been married seven times, declared that all seven women still are living, but said, therefore, that six of the alleged ceremonies were illegal.

His first marriage, as officers quoted him, was to Emma L. Johns, in Warren, Ohio, 27 years ago, and his last six, all contracted in the last four years, were to Della Whalen, of Leavittsburg, Ohio; Jennie, of Leavittsburg, Ohio; Nina R. King, of Leavittsburg, Ohio; and Alma E. Snyder, of Leavittsburg, Ohio, whom he married under the name of W. A. Allen; Mae S. Roush, Des Moines, Iowa, where he again used the name of W. A. Allen; and Bell Parker, of Leavittsburg, Ohio. All were believed to have had considerable money.

He was said to have a list of more than sixty women, of matrimonial prospects, whose wealth or prospects of it he had reduced to tabular form. These women represented many parts of the United States and Canada and Mexico as well, it was stated.

Investigation had failed to connect him with the Seattle case and the authorities were about to release him when they decided to give him "one more thorough grilling."

Man Of Many Wives Held In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Sept. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—The authorities here today to resolve replies to telegrams they sent yesterday inquiring into the alleged matrimonial adventures of Harry R. ## Usual Leaders Lower; Oils Generally Higher

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Increased activity in today's stock market was attended by sagging prices, many stocks yielding one to three points. Efforts to extend yesterday's rise at the outset under the leadership of the sugar group was soon abandoned when large selling orders appeared for both accounts. Sales approximated 800,000 shares. The closing was weak.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Price changes were mixed at the opening of today's stock market. U. S. Steel, Baldwin and Studebaker, the usual leaders, all opened fractionally lower but the main trend nevertheless appeared to be upward. Davidson Chemical advanced 2 points. Most of the oils were higher, Houston rising a point. The market continued somewhat spotty in the early dealings. Good buying was noted in some of the sugar, textile and copper shares, while the tobacco were heavy. International Agricultural preferred dropped 2 points and Famous Players and Maxwell A one each. Harman Corporation advanced 2 points. Cuba Cane Sugar preferred 1 1/2 and Punta Alegre L. Foreign exchanges opened irregular. German marks dropped to less than one cent a million, a new low record for the year.

Considerable short selling and profit taking came into the market during the morning after an early period of hesitation and the general list lost ground. Resistance was offered, however, in a number of quarters particularly by shares in the sugar, merchandising and low priced rail groups, several of which maintained their gains of a point or so. Heaviness was most marked in the oils, equipments, motors and a few specialties, such as American Can, Dupont and Foundation Company which sold one to two points below yesterday's final figures. Call money opened at five per cent.

"Brick Trust Exists Here" Charge Of Judge Thomas At Public Hearing On Bias For Paving Streets

All Bids Are Rejected By The Board Of Control

(BULLETIN)
At the conclusion of an executive session of the Board of Control, which followed the public hearing this afternoon, the Board announced that it had rejected all bids for paving and would readvertise at once.

"I believe in a million dollars for defense, but not one cent for tribute and after looking over the figures local contractors have submitted for the paving of streets in new additions to the city, I believe that from surface knowledge a brick trust exists in Portsmouth," Judge Thomas said at an open meeting held before the Board of Control yesterday afternoon when bids submitted by local contractors for the paving of these streets were discussed.

"I have had streets paved myself and I know what brick cost. When I paved a street in Malet Road some years ago, the brick cost $7 per thousand. Now brick of this same quality is bringing $28 per thousand. I have always contended there is something wrong somewhere and I believe that now is just as good a time to throw it out as any. While there has been a hearing, a grand jury action does not mean that there never will be. The fact that the 15 streets were so singularly grouped and the bids were so close, leads one to become suspicious. The whole matter does not look right to me and I believe that the bids should be thoroughly looked into before a letting is made. The taxpayers should demand it. As I said it may simply be a coincidence about the manner in which the streets were grouped but it certainly looks funny to me and to other taxpayers in Portsmouth. I believe in any one making a fair profit, but that's all."

R. S. Spangler, representing the Wertz Realty company, said: "I believe it is cheaper today than it was six months ago and we are not in favor of going ahead with the paving of our 400 feet on Summit street. The bids may be alright, but with labor cheaper, it is our wish that Summit street be paved later."

Gilbert S. Monroe, head of The S. Monroe & Sons company, was the next speaker and he gave detailed figures as to why his firm's bid on the five streets in the Mickelthwait addition was $3.25 per yard not cost with about five percent profit added, making it $3.46.

"Yes, I understand your bid on these streets," City Engineer Holmes stated, "but there is such an increase over your recent contracts that it caused me to start an investigation."

"That is perfectly true," Mr. Monroe replied, "but you see it may be to keep on losing money until you

Interesting Talks On Art Of Lighting Is Enjoyed At Meeting Of Kiwanians

A splendid attendance marked the noonday luncheon at the Kiwanis Club, held at the Mary Louise, Wednesday. The feature of the meeting was an "illustrated" address made by O. D. Brown, of Cincinnati, who was the guest of William Trischler and who represents the General Electric Co. Mr. Brown gave a very interesting lecture on the art of lighting, and had the "goods" to back up his talk. He had on display incandescent lamps, showing the rays cast by the first incandescent lamp made in 1881 by Thomas A. Edison. Compared to the intensity of light with one of the Mazda make, the light of '81 was about what a candle would be to the old oil lamp. He stated that his company makes up to 300,000 watt lamps, three of which were ablaze at the Cincinnati Fall Festival. Their life is only 10 burning hours and they cost $300 each. He had a small cabinet arrangement where he showed the effect of light in display windows. He stated his company was annually expending $14,000,000 in research work, but stated that huge sum had done much to cut down America's light bill. He added that were the old incandescent lamps in use now, it would cost America two billion dollars more per year for light than under the use of the highly developed tungsten lamps.

The alleged robbery occurred early on the night of August 31 last, when, Horsley claimed, that the accused grabbed his pocketbook from his hands while he was standing at Eleventh street and railroad cut and dashed into a dark alley with the money.

The defendant strenuously disclaimed all knowledge of the theft and attempted to prove an alibi by showing by other witnesses that she was elsewhere at the time and could not have committed the robbery. She was defended by Attorney T. C. Beatty.

Members of the family were aroused by the flames and fled from the smoke-filled house in their night clothes.

Rev. G. M. Howerton, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, enjoyed a recent hunting trip to the South, but he was no more successful on that trip than he was on his home ground, when he turned "possum" hunter for a short time. The result of that hunt was one fat 'possum.

Rev. Mr. Howerton was just entering the driveway at his home when he saw some strange "varmint" scurry across his yard. As it passed the rays of light from his automobile he got a good look at it and said "That's a possum."

His expense the next few minutes, such remarks as "A cat does look like a 'possum," being very much in order. The minister, however, turned the tables by following the trail of the animal, and in a twinkling picked up an honest-in-goodness 'possum by its tail.

Only the existence of the game laws prevented the Howerton family from enjoying a 'possum roast, but Rev. Mr. Howerton kept the animal long enough to convince all skeptics that it is possible to go hunting for, and catch 'possums within the city limits.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 12 (By the A. P.)—With just enough work to keep his muscles loosened Jack Dempsey today completes the five weeks of hard training for the defense of his title against Luis Angol Firpo at the Polo Grounds Friday night.

The world's heavyweight champion trained to the finest point of physical perfection, plans to take only light exercise today. He will take his regular morning bike through the pine-lined roads surrounding Saratoga Lake and later may do a little shadow boxing to loosen up, but for the most part he will rest, conserving his physical energy for what he regards as the most important battle of his championship career.

Dempsey unleashed the fury of his punches against his sparring partners yesterday. The boxing gloves were packed away, the bruised and battered sparring mates broke camp, leaving Dempsey with Jerry Luavada, his faithful little trainer; Mike Trent, his fat and bonyguard, and Jack's two brothers, Barney and Johnny. They will accompany him, with Frank and Luavada, when he leaves for New York tomorrow.

The title holder declared he was not the least bit superstitious about breaking camp on the thirteenth of the month.

"I don't put any faith in that kind of stuff," he said. "In fact, I think the old thirteenth is lucky for me. I won the quickest fight in my life on the thirteenth and Friday, at that, when I stopped Fred Fulton with a couple of punches."

The champion does not appear to have a worry on his mind. He seems as carefree as a school boy, with no thought of the possibility of losing his championship. During the idle hours he finds amusement in grinding out tunes on the phonograph, first a lively "jazz" and then a dreamywaltz. He enjoys the card games with favored friends.

Dempsey appears to be confident that he will win by a knock out, but refuses to make a statement as to the probable length of battle. He said, "I know I can knock out Firpo. I hit him right in the jaw and he knows he can't knock me out of his own camp. But I don't intend to let him do that. I expect to take some tough punches, because Firpo is dangerous—more dangerous than you fellows think. He will continue to be dangerous until I have him on the floor."

The champion, boxed four furious rounds against three sparring partners, revealing that he is eager for battle. He punished each of them severely and apparently had all he could do to restrain himself from knocking them out.

There was visible evidence that his punches were landing more heavily than before. The champion, with a scowl on his face and eyes flashing, crowded fiercely into his sparring mates. He gave Jack Burke, the game Pittsburgh light heavyweight, such a stiff punching that he apologized at the finish of their whirlwind two rounds.

FOR OTHER REASONS

SOME one proposes that Armistice Day be made a holiday and others are sending into their local papers vigorous protests against the proposal.

The objection most common is that Armistice Day should receive no recognition because it kept Germany from getting what was coming to her, invasion by the conquerors and feeling the heavy foot of the enemy upon her own soil.

The objection is one that appeals solely to bitterness and anger and not to honor and humanity. Germany quit. The conquerors could have refused her plea for armistice and marched triumphantly on to Berlin, but, think of it, at what a cost. For certainly the Germans would not have thrown down their arms and fled headlong to the uttermost confines of the empire and even into Russia. That is not all of them. Some would, of course, for the Kaiser's forces are utterly demoralized, but many would have held together in desperation and fought unyieldingly. They would have claimed many a victim, tens of thousands of brave men, our boys among them, that fought gloriously, would not have come home alive and sound to bring joy to mother and wife. Oh, it would have been the nation's sacrifice of the best and bravest of the earth to have fought on when the enemy admitted himself whipped.

Armistice day may not have gratified the spirit of vengeance, but it was a glorious day to those whose valor and sacrifice, the misery of the disabled and the dead, who had won it.

Making it a holiday would be a dubious recognition at best.

The national government has no authority to declare one to any effect. It can have a proclamation issued by the president designating a given day as such, it can close up all the government offices, but that is as far as it can go. The observance is left to the people. We know what that would be. Vast crowds gathering in church and public places to recount the story of noble deed and glorious victory won? No. May be here and there in remote and inaccessible community a few at the meeting house, but in the cities and the towns, in the lands of big farms and good roads, everybody hurrying to get into the automobile, off for a day's frolic, and the next day the tales of wreckage and fatality from reckless and careless driving. The less holidays, so called, in this heedless land, the greater the average longevity.

Our two noble senators have declared for Coolidge for nominee. They are hastily climbing into the band wagon, but there may be some mistake as to the identity of the vehicle.

And again a hotel project has gone glimmering, this time because there were no bidders for the whole construction. But, be of good cheer another Greek restaurant threatens to open.

Wonders never cease. Three whole days have actually gone by without a rain—and it rains today.

This old world must have more lives than a cat. Ever so gracefully it slides by destruction that loomed in the Italian-Greco crisis.

World used to scorn the man that built a stall under his home for his horse, but the man, who is building and putting a stall under it for his limousine, is said to have a darned good idea. Still just another peril added to the way of the poor pedestrian.

The school enrollment for this year is larger than for any previous opening. Such reports of growth as this are so common that it has sort of dulled our conception of the fact that Portsmouth has become a great big town, a city if you will.

Joyful tidings. The lathers came to work yesterday, on the addition to The Times building, after three weeks of expectancy. Now if the plasterers get around in six weeks, those Master Builders, Editor Taylor and Manager Coe, will do some strutting around—because they will then be only six months, three weeks and 18 days behind schedule.

The best thing we see about the Japan earthquake is that the bigger the American relief fund grows the smaller shrinks the calamity.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. C. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A restraining influence has come to jazz music. It no longer blares its wild symphonies with skittering, cow-bells and triangles. These days its muted strains cannot be heard beyond intimate dance floors.

Diluted jazz was inspired by the police battering ram. The New York law forbids dancing shortly after the midnight hour and a blatant band brings a raid. So violins are muted, drums muffled and horns stopped up with gold derbies.

Dancers have welcomed the change. They can whisper sweet nothings as they chase the glowing hours with flying feet. Most of the well patronized clubs these days are in private residences on quiet streets.

The decorations are soft folds of plush brocade which in addition to beautifying the places act as sound proof walls. New York is merry-making with a hush. Head waiters discourage loud talking or any sudden burst of song.

In their efforts to keep night fires burning in the teeth of Volsteadism they realize how true it is, that "silence is golden." Cafe patrons must not exhibit signs of celebration. Rather must they obey the Latin proverb: "Be silent and pass for a philosopher."

At Montmartre, with all the windows open late at night, the music cannot be heard on the street. In the East Sixties, where many super-clubs are hidden away, there is the quiet of the cathedral. Door-men do not stand out front. They peek out of cracks in the door.

Under this new jazz order, raids have diminished. It is true now and then there is a stir at the entrance. Into the room rapidly walks a man with derby hat in hand casting hurried glances at various tables. As he departs there are cynical smiles. He represents the law.

Harry Van Horen, of Carlin's Park, Baltimore, honored me with Press Pass No. 2 at his request. "For developing the paragraph to its highest plane and fullest meaning," Henry Mencken gets Pass No. 1 for his review of "Babbitt." A spirit of jealousy prompts me to mention Mr. Mencken. Each time I mention him it costs him $10 for clippings from a press bureau. Pass No. 1 for me would have saved him this.

Just when I am convinced there is no romance left in the world, I find a glowing spark. Such for instance as the arrest in Harlem's Black Belt of "The Alchemist of Alibi." Under his name on the gilt sign hanging from his window was "an tanner, doctor of medicine and magic, chemist and patron of the arts." When the sick came to him he touched off a red powder and shouted: "Pain, meet your doom."

SONNET
As, thou art for the grave; thy glances shine
Too brightly to shine long; another Spring
Shall deck her for men's eyes—but not for thine—
Sealed in a sleep which knows no waking.
The fields for thee have no medicinal leaf,
And the reared ore no mineral power;
And they who love thee wait in anxious grief
Till the slow plague shall bring forth the fatal hour.
Glide softly to thy rest then; Death should come
Gently to one, of gentle mind like thee,
As light winds wandering through groves of bloom
Detach the delicate blossom from the tree.
Close thy sweet eyes, calmly, and without pain;
And we will trust in God to see thee set again.
—William Cullen Bryant.

We Are Seven
I laid my last two dollars down;
The villain shook the bones,
And as he rolled them o'er the board
I cried in lusty tones:
"Oh, Dice, what do your faces say?"
I rushed my eyes to heaven.
With gain I turned my face to see
The dice, which slyly winked at me
And murmured, "We are seven!"
